Dear Guy:

I appreciate your kind invitation to speak to the Republican Congressional Leadership Council on 30 June 1988.
Unfortunately, I am scheduled to be out of the country during this period and, therefore, must decline the invitation. Thank you for thinking of me.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ Bill

The Honorable William Webster
Director of the CIA
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Bill:

The Republican Congressional Leadership Council (RCLC) will meet in Washington D.C. for their annual Spring Briefing on June 30, 1988. I'd like to take this opportunity to invite you to speak to the members of this group at our upcoming meeting.

I'm not sure how much you know about the RCLC, so let me give you a little background. RCLC members contribute between $2,500 and $5,000 to the NRCC each year. This amounts to in excess of 3 million dollars for House Candidates each election cycle.

Our RCLC members are concerned and interested in the political issues of the day so the NRCC organizes two national briefings each year. At these meetings, our members are briefed by Members of the Cabinet, senior White House officials, Members of Congress and other key political leaders. The list of those who have been part of our program is quite lengthy, however in this last cycle the RCLC enjoyed meeting and hearing from Frank Carlucci, Secretary of Defense; President Gerald R. Ford; Director of the Office of Management and Budget, Jim Miller; Dr. Henry Kissinger and Clayton Yeutter, U.S. Trade Representative just to name a few.

Following our full day of briefings The President and Mrs. Reagan will host a private White House reception in honor of the RCLC. As a speaker on our program we'd like to invite you to join us at the White House.

I know your participation in this event would guarantee a major success. I will be in contact with you in a couple of days to confirm your availability for June 30. In the meantime, if I can be of any assistance to you, please feel free to call me at 202/479-7011.

Warmest regards,
